Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 1 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☐ Responsive to communication(s) filed on ____.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-9 and 15-20, are drawn to a method for diagnosis of an MHC class II haplotype-specific immune response to an H-RSV antigen in a subject.

Group II, claim(s) 10, is drawn to a method to evaluate the correlation of protection against H-RSV infection with vaccination in a subject.

Group III, claim(s) 11-12, are drawn to a method for immunizing a subject against an H-RSV antigen in an MHC class II haplotype-specific manner.

Group IV, claim(s) 13-14, are drawn to a method for preventing or treating H-RSV infection in a subject.

The inventions listed as Groups I-IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The claims are drawn to different methods or inventions, specifically different methods for a similar product. Since the claims present a multiple materially different methods of use, unity of invention is lacking.

The inventions listed as Groups I-IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical feature for the following reasons:

Group I is directed to a method for diagnosis of an MHC class II haplotype-specific immune response to an H-RSV antigen in a subject. However, because the method is not novel, see Levely et al., (Immunodominant T-Cell Epitope on the F Protein of Respiratory Syncytial Virus Recognized by Human Lymphocytes. Journal of Virology, July 1991, Vol. 65, No. 7, pages 3789-3796), no special technical feature exists of Group I as defined by PCT Rule 13.2, because it does not define a contribution over the prior art. The technical feature of Groups II-IV are drawn to methods having different goals, method steps and starting materials, which do not require each other for their practice and do not share the same or a corresponding technical feature. Note that PCT Rule 13 does not provide for multiple products or methods within a single application. Because the technical feature of Group I is not special technical feature, and because the technical feature of the Groups II-IV inventions are not present in the Group I claims, unity of invention is lacking.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
